We reported lower costs during the quarter, with cash operating costs per ounce sold improving 31% from a year ago and nine-month 2013 operating costs of US$856 per ounce sold in line with our guidance for the year. The significant improvement reflects higher grades as well as increased productivity, efficiency and overall cost effectiveness. We also completed our mill expansion and exited the quarter averaging well over 3,000 tonnes per day. Very importantly, the favourable trend in grades continued with an average grade during the third quarter of 4.7 grams per tonne, including 4.9 grams per tonne at our Timmins West Mine.

"Looking forward, we started the fourth quarter with a record month in October producing 17,500 ounces by processing mine production and stockpiled ore with average throughput of 3,550 tonnes per day, close to 20% above target levels, at an average grade of 5.2 grams per tonne. Our record results in October bring total year-to-date production to 100,400 ounces. With nearly two months remaining, we are well positioned to achieve our targets for 2013 and to end the year with our first ever quarter of net free cash flow."

Footnotes

- (1) Cash operating cost per ounce is a Non-GAAP measure. In the gold mining industry, cash operating cost per ounce is a common performance measure but does not have any standardized meaning. Cash operating costs per ounce are based on ounces sold and are derived from amounts included in the Consolidated Statements of Comprehensive Income (Loss) and include mine site operating costs such as mining, processing and administration as well as royalty expenses, but exclude depreciation, depletion and share-based payment expenses and reclamation costs. The Company discloses cash operating cost per ounce as it believes this measure provides valuable assistance to investors and analysts in evaluating the Company's performance and ability to generate cash flow. The most directly comparable measure prepared in accordance with GAAP is total production costs. Cash operating cost per ounce should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for measures prepared in accordance with GAAP. A reconciliation of cash operating cost per ounce to amounts included in the Consolidated Statements of Comprehensive Loss (Income) for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2013 is set out on page 15 of the Company's MD&A filed on SEDAR at www.sedar.com and at www.lsgold.com.
- (2) Starting in the second quarter 2013, the Company has adopted a total all-in sustaining cost ("AISC") performance measure, which is a non-GAAP measure. The measure is intended to assist readers in evaluating the total costs of producing gold from current operations. While there is no standardized meaning across the industry for this measure, the Company's definition conforms to the AISC definition as set out by the World Gold Council in its guidance note dated June 27, 2013. The Company defines all-in sustaining cost as the sum of production costs, sustaining capital (capital required to maintain current operations at existing levels), corporate general and administrative expenses, in-mine exploration expenses and reclamation cost accretion related to current operations. All-in sustaining cost excludes growth capital, reclamation cost accretion not related to current operations, interest and other financing costs and taxes. The most directly comparable measure prepared in accordance with GAAP is total production costs. A reconciliation of all-in sustaining cost to amounts included in the Consolidated Statements of Comprehensive Loss (Income) for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2013 is set out on page 15 of the Company's MD&A filed on SEDAR at www.sedar.com and at www.lsgold.com.
