

"We are pleased to announce that we are commencing operations at the Terra Project for the 2015 mining season and we look forward to building on our success from last year's production. The recent debt restructuring and infusion of new capital allows us to immediately start operations and provides a path that allows us to pay our debt as we continue to grow the Company and shareholder value over the next several years," stated Greg Schifrin, CEO.

WMTN, a mineral exploration and development company announced today that as of May 26, 2015 it entered into a Loan and Note Modification Agreement with BOCO Investments, LLC ("BOCO") which facilitated a restructure of all of the Company's debt with BOCO. Upon the execution of this agreement, the Company is no longer in default on any of its outstanding debt with BOCO. The Agreement not only lowers the annual interest rate on all debt held by BOCO to 8 percent, but also restructures the repayment schedule over the next three years. BOCO also agreed to convert all of its accrued interest and a portion of its principal into equity in the Company.

As part of the Agreement, BOCO also agreed to exercise 6,886,615 warrants, which were exercised on May 27, 2015, for total proceeds of $264,331 paid to the Company. BOCO has also provided an additional $150,000 credit facility for expenses relating to project expenditures. This infusion of capital allows WestMountain to immediately proceed to open up the Terra Camp for the 2015 mining season.
