CABORCA, Mexico, April 17, 2017 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Mexus Gold US (OTCQB:MXSG) (“Mexus” or the “Company”) confirmed that it is producing gold at its Santa Elena mine. The first part of the mining plan is now complete with Pad #1 actively leaching gold, new mineralized material being place on pad #2, and the Merrill Crowe gold recovery plant now operational. We will be smelting and selling dore in the near future and will release results when prudent. The plan going forward will be to increase production to 10,000 tons per day and build out the mine infrastructure as necessary with increased revenue funding each stage. Mexus’ goal is to reach maximum output by December 2017.

The work to bring the San Felix project into production has begun. Mexus’ first step is to restore the electrical system to the existing plant. 750kw and 600kw diesel generators have been purchased to manage the plant. Additional information will be released as milestones are reached. The plan is to have the San Felix project producing gold by January 2018.
