The 2018 Kaska "Keda" (Dene for "Moose") Gold Coin depicts the winning art work of Kaska Nation artist Miranda Lane on both a one and 1/2 ounce .9999 gold coin which will be available for sale, in limited edition, commencing National Aboriginal Day, June 21, 2018.

Gold from the Golden Predator 3 Aces Project bulk sample is incorporated into the coins and a percentage of the net profits from the sale of the coins will be shared with the Kaska Nation. The bulk sample material was processed at the Company's test facility using water and gravity only, without the use of chemicals.

The First Yukon Mint™ .9999 Gold Coin (in one ounce and 1/2 ounce sizes): Limited Edition Series

The Yukon Mint™ gold coins will be part of a limited annual series of First Nation art on the Obverse side of the coin, selected through design contests, combined with the iconic image of Klondike Gold Rush on the Reverse. The inaugural mintage has been limited to 180 one-ounce and 140 1/2 ounce gold coins. Each coin has been engraved with a security feature to ensure its authenticity.

True North Moose (Keda) - Obverse

Ms. Lane's submission to the Yukon Mint's 2017 "My Kaska Nation" art contest was based on her original work, True North Moose, and depicts the Moose (Keda) honoured and recognized for all the gifts she provides for her people. The Moose represents hunting, food nutrition, community, sharing, kindness and survival and is found in the North of the medicine wheel, with North representing the place of wisdom. The sun, moon and trees represent the reciprocal arrangement we all have with Mother Earth.

Klondike Gold Rush Stampede - Reverse

An iconic image linked to the Yukon that speaks to the history and entrepreneurial spirit of exploration. The Klondike Gold Rush (1897-1899) was an epic journey to an uncharted land in search of adventure and opportunity in the continent's final frontier. It seared the word "Klondike" into the collective consciousness of a generation. This everlasting iconic image is further celebrated with its depiction on the Reverse of all Yukon Mint™ coins.
