PHOENIX, February 28, 2019 - Uptick Newswire Stock Day Podcast welcomed Arizona Silver Exploration Inc. (the "Company") (TSX-V: AZS) (OTCQB: AZASF), an Arizona based silver and gold exploration company. President and CEO, Greg Hahn, joined Stock Day host Everett Jolly.

To begin the interview Jolly asked Hahn for some backstory on himself and the Company. Hahn shared that he has been in the business of exploration for over 40 years and has traveled all around the country for exploration and mine development projects. He also explained that the Company began with the idea of starting a company based on the potential opportunities of Arizona.

Since then, the Ramsey Silver Project has proven to be quite successful for the Company and they are looking forward to getting started with their two additional acquired properties.

Jolly then asked why the Company decided to expand into Northern Arizona with their latest acquisition. Hahn explained that over two million ounces of gold have been produced in the Northwest corner of Arizona and that the acquired property represents substantial opportunities for the Company.

Jolly asked about the Company's Sycamore Canyon Property, which was acquired last year. "It is a very high-grade system.", shared Hahn when explaining the successful analysis of the site. Hahn also explained that the site has never been drilled before, which the Company sees as even more potential. Hahn added that the newest acquisition has also never been drilled.

In discussing the Company's future plans Hahn stated, "Our goal is not to become a mining company. We're an exploration company.". He added, "Our goal is to make a discovery, advance to a point where a mining company would want to advance further, and then sell it to them.".

Jolly then asked for an update on the Ramsey Silver Project. Hahn shared that the site is rich in silver and will continue to be drilled as the funding becomes available. However, the project lacks gold, which is why the Company acquired two additional sites.

Hahn then shared that the prices for gold and silver are expected to continue to increase, which builds the value of the market and brings in interested shareholders. To close the interview, Hahn stated his belief that the Company has the potential to make significant discoveries and will continue to build shareholder value.
