VANCOUVER, July 9, 2019 - Oroco Resource Corp. (TSX-V: OCO) ("Oroco" or "the Company") is pleased to announce that it has engaged Mr. Mark Stevens, C.P.G., of Denver Colorado as a technical consultant to the Oroco team. Mr. Stevens is initially leading an independent geological review of the historical resource files pertaining to the Santo Tomas Cu-(Mo-Au-Ag) Porphyry Deposit in Sinaloa State, Mexico. Mr. Stevens will thereafter be a central participant in the planning for an updated resource estimate and additional exploration work at Santo Tomas, as part of the technical and commercial advancement of the mining project.

Mr. Stevens is a highly experienced exploration, evaluation and resource geologist who was formerly the V.P. Exploration for Augusta Resources, whose primary asset was the world class Rosemont Copper Project in southern Arizona. He was most recently V.P. Exploration for Brio Gold with production and exploration in Brazil. Prior to his time with Augusta Resources and the Rosemont project, Mr. Stevens was a Principal Geologist with the international mining consulting firm of Pincock, Allen & Holt.

Mr. Craig Dalziel, Oroco's CEO commented: "We are very pleased to have a senior geologist with the capabilities of Mark Stevens join the Oroco team, as he has extensive experience with the technical advancement of large-scale porphyry copper resource projects such as that at Santo Tomas. We feel that his experience at Rosemont, in particular, will be invaluable in all areas of the project's development. Oroco management is confident that Oroco is continuing to build a strong team to carry the Santo Tomas project forward."
