The Company holds an 81.8% interest in Corona. All amounts are presented in US dollars unless otherwise stated and have not been adjusted for the 18.2% non-controlling interest.

Corona's Highlights for the Three Months Ended March 31, 2021

- Revenues of US$41.9 million, a 24% increase from Q1 2020.
- Adjusted EBITDA of US$16.2 million, a 65% increase from Q1 2020.
- Total tonnes processed of 326,211, a 14% increase from Q1 2020.
- Net production revenue per tonne of ore milled increased by 8% to US$128.10.
- Cash Cost per copper equivalent payable pound higher by 26% to US$1.48.
- Cash cost per zinc equivalent payable pound higher by 9% to US$0.47.
- All-in sustaining cost ("AISC") per copper equivalent payable pound higher by 18% to US$2.65.
- All-in sustaining cost ("AISC") per zinc equivalent payable pound higher by 4% to US$0.85.
- Copper equivalent pounds production decreased 21% to 15.9 million pounds.
- Zinc equivalent pounds production decreased 9% to 49.9 million pounds.
- $68.0 million of cash and cash equivalents as at March 31, 2021.
- $93.7 million of working capital as at March 31, 2021.

The Yauricocha Mine achieved 14% higher ore throughput in Q1 2021 compared to Q1 2020, despite continuing to face various COVID-19 related operational challenges during the quarter. Metal production declined (except zinc and silver) as ore grades fell due to a decline of tonnage contributions from the high-grade cuerpos chicos zones. The copper-rich Esperanza zone also had some operational issues that have since been resolved. Revenues for Q1 2021 increased driven by the higher realized metal prices, resulting in an increase in operating cash flows and adjusted EBITDA generated during Q1 2021. AISC per copper equivalent and zinc equivalent pounds increased due to 21% decline in the copper equivalent payable pounds and a 9% decline in the zinc equivalent payable pounds as compared to the same quarter of 2020.

Luis Marchese, CEO of Sierra Metals, commented, "The safety of our workforce and the communities in which we operate is paramount. The COVID-19 pandemic has imposed various direct and indirect challenges which have affected our ability to operate as effectively as expected. Despite these challenges, we still had solid revenue and adjusted EBITDA tempered by higher costs due to a decline in ore grades. We continue to work through the challenges and issues, and we expect to see improvement as we progress throughout the year."

He continued, "Looking ahead, we anticipate the receipt of the ITM permit in the coming months, which will allow us to increase throughput by 20% and operate at a yearly permitted increased rate of 3,600 tonnes per day. We also continue advancing the completion of a Preliminary Feasibility Study, which examines an increase in throughput to 5,500 tonnes per day starting in 2024. Furthermore, we continue with our brownfield and greenfield exploration programs. We have had recent success in the area between the Esperanza and Cachi Cachi zones with the discovery of high-grade copper silver and zinc oxide material as reported in a press release dated April 13, 2020."

He concluded, "Minera Corona and the Yauricocha Mine continues to have a strong balance sheet to support the Company's capital expenditures and growth initiatives, and while we are facing challenges from COVID-19 currently, the mid-term plans remain in place."

Corona's Financial Highlights for the Three Months Ended March 31, 2021

- Revenues of $41.9 million for Q1 2021 compared to $33.7 million in Q1 2020. Revenues increased largely as a result of higher realized metal prices and lower treatment and refining costs in Q1 2021 as compared to the same quarter of 2020. Metal sales quantities declined during Q1 2021 due to lower production resulting from lower head grades during the quarter. Copper, gold and silver sales declined by 52%, 29% and 9% as compared to Q1 2020, while zinc and lead sales increased by 10% and 6% respectively. Copper equivalent payable pounds for Q1 2021 decreased by 21%, whereas Zinc equivalent payable pounds for Q1 2021 decreased by 9% as compared to the same quarter of 2020.
- Cash cost per copper equivalent payable pound was $1.48 for Q1 2021 compared to $1.17 for Q1 2020. Cash cost per zinc equivalent payable pound sold was $0.47 for Q1 2021 compared to $0.43 for Q1 2020 at the Yauricocha Mine.
- All-in sustaining cost ("AISC") per copper equivalent payable pound increased to $2.65 for Q1 2021 compared to $2.24 for Q1 2020. AISC per zinc equivalent payable pound sold was $0.85 for Q1 2021 compared to $0.82 for Q1 2020. The increase in AISC during Q1 2021 was mainly due to the 21% decline in the copper equivalent pounds sold and 9% decline in the zinc equivalent pounds sold as compared to the same quarter of 2020.
- Adjusted EBITDA of $16.2 million for Q1 2021 as compared to $9.8 million for the same quarter of 2020, higher primarily due to increased net income from higher metal prices.
- Operating cash flows before movements in working capital of $16.5 million for Q1 2021, compared to US$10.1 million for Q1 2020. The increase in operating cash flows before movements in working capital for Q1 2021 was primarily due to the increase in revenues, discussed previously.
- Cash and cash equivalents of $68.0 million as at March 31, 2021, compared to $65.0 million as at December 31, 2020. Cash and cash equivalents increased due to $10.4 million of cash generated from operating activities offset by $6.4 million of cash used in investing activities and $1.0 million used in financing activities.
- Net income of $5.2 million, or $0.144 per share for Q1 2021 compared to net income of $2.1 million, or $0.057 per share for Q1 2020.
