the first quarter, primarily related to construction of a new regrind mill circuit related to the Rodeo Property. El Quevar project expense was $0.1 million in the quarter which includes costs of exploration and evaluation activities, care and maintenance and property holding costs, net of reimbursements from Barrick Gold under the terms of an Earn-In Agreement. ## Twelve Month Financial Outlook

The Company ended the first quarter 2021 with a cash balance of $8.0 million and currently anticipates receiving approximately $13.0 to $15.0 million in net operating margin (defined as revenue from the sale of metals less costs of metals sold) from the Rodeo operation during the 12 months ending March 31, 2022. The Company's currently forecasted expenditures during the 12 months ending March 31, 2022, apart from Rodeo costs of metals sold which are included in the net operating margin forecast, total $8.5 million and are as follows:

- $3.2 million on exploration activities and property holding costs associated with the Company's portfolio of exploration properties located in Mexico, Argentina and Nevada, including project assessment and evaluation costs relating to additional exploration at Rodeo, Yoquivo and other properties;
- $0.5 million on capital expenditures related to the Rodeo Property;
- $0.6 million at the Velarde? Properties for care and maintenance;
- $0.5 million at the El Quevar project to fund care and maintenance and property holding costs, net of reimbursement from Barrick;
- $3.5 million on general and administrative costs; and
- $0.2 million related to an increase in working capital primarily related to increased inventories and receivables at the Rodeo operation.

Forecasted cash inflows do not include an anticipated second installment of $1.5 million due to Golden Minerals from Fabled Silver Gold Corp. in December 2021 under the terms of an agreement for the sale of the Company's Santa Maria project. Rodeo estimates assume average realized metals prices of $1,800/oz gold and $25/oz silver.

Covid-19 Uncertainties

Activities at the Rodeo operation and the Velarde? Properties, including mining and processing, were not interrupted as a result of the pandemic during the first quarter 2021. The Company undertook several initiatives and installed multiple safety practices in 2020 in response to the pandemic and continues to carry out these initiatives and practices. The Company will continue to follow World Health Organization protocols at all its projects and offices. Business and financial projections are current as of the date of this news release but could be negatively impacted if business interruptions related to COVID-19 occur.
