

Mason Graphite Announces Patent Grants in USA and Canada of Graphene / 2D Material

07.10.2021 | GlobeNewswire

MONTREAL, Oct. 07, 2021 - Mason Graphite Inc. ("Mason Graphite" or the "Company") (TSX.V: LLG; OTCQX: MGPHF) is pleased to announce having been granted, through Black Swan Graphene Inc. ("Black Swan Graphene"), United States patent US10994280 and Canadian patents CA3040228 and CA3040229 for the apparatus and method for bulk production of atomically thin 2-dimensional materials, including graphene. These grants take the total of granted patents in the Black Swan Graphene portfolio to sixteen (16), covering regions of Europe, Canada and the United States, and consolidate the Company's leading position in the high-shear liquid phase exfoliation process for graphene and other two-dimensional materials.

The graphene produced from the patented manufacturing process owned by Black Swan Graphene and produced by Black Swan's strategic shareholder Thomas Swan & Co. Ltd., can be used as additive in multiple applications, such as concrete, polymers, inks, coatings, and batteries delivering features such as enhanced abrasion resistance, reduced weight, and enhanced thermal and electrical conductivity. The process patents offer a modular, scalable production capability which Black Swan Graphene intends to exploit as market demand expands.

Harry Swan, Chairman of Black Swan Graphene, stated: "The grant of the American and Canadian patents to Black Swan Graphene's extensive portfolio of graphene and other 2D materials processes, enhances the Company's leadership position and supports the expansion of its products and production."
