The Company acknowledges, highly values and respects Cree traditional territory and their conn land.

"Introducing a Cree language reference to the Project name presents a great opportunity to share Cree culture through storyline the name represents. In this way, Patriot can further share Cree culture with the broader Patriot stakeholder c she added.

Patriot Battery Metals Inc. (the "Company" or "Patriot") (TSX: PMET) (ASX: PMT) (OTCQX: PMETF) (FSE: R9GA) is p announce the renaming of the Corvette Project to the Shaakichiuwaanaan Project. The Cree word, Shaakichiuwaanaan climbing a hill or a mountain and refers to three hills/mountains in the vicinity of the Project.

The 100%-owned Shaakichiuwaanaan Property (the "Property" or "Project") is located in the Eeyou Istchee James Bay Quebec. Specifically, all of Patriot's drill exploration activities have been located on trapline CH39, on the traditional ter Cree Nation of Chisasibi.

More than 200 communication activities have taken place with various Chisasibi leadership, land users, entrepreneurs, organizations and community members since 2022. Patriot's ESG team visits the community in person, approximately weeks. During several of the communications sessions with the Tallyman's family and the community-at-large, the idea renaming the Project was both suggested and discussed. Patriot asked for input from the Tallyman and the elders of the community and the recommendation was to use the Cree word, Shaakichiuwaanaan, in reference to the Project.

Building on this recommendation, a logo has been developed for the Project in collaboration with the Tallyman's family, symbols important to the Cree such as a goose, a teepee and Cree syllabics.

A key to the success of the Shaakichiuwaanaan Project is the contribution of First Nations workers at site. Cree commumembers have been contributing to site activities including drilling operations, civil works, camp operations and road commumers have workers have worked on the Project during 2024.
