"We are pleased to announce that we have acquired 5% silver and gold streams on the Arcata and Azuca mines in Peru from Sierra Sun, a well-established operator in the country," commented Sheldon Vanderkooy, CEO. "Collectively, Arcata and Azuca are expected to have at least a 10-year mine life, with Sierra Sun targeting production to restart at Arcata in the near term. GEOs pursuant to the Streams are expected to rise over the course of the ramp-up to approximately 5 to 6 thousand GEOs per year by 2028. There is no step-down in stream rates. The Sierra Sun management team have extensive experience in Peru and have provided mining and engineering services to some of the top mining companies operating in the country. We believe that Arcata and Azuca are exciting precious metals restart and development opportunities, respectively, with excellent exploration upside, and we look forward to our partnership with Sierra Sun."

Key Terms and Transaction Highlights

- Precious metals streams with no step-downs in Peru. Triple Flag has the right to purchase 5% of payable silver and gold from each of the Arcata and Azuca mines (collectively, the "Streams") for the life of the operations. There is no step-down in stream rates.
 - Triple Flag will make ongoing payments of 10% of the spot silver or gold price for each ounce delivered under the Streams.
 - The $35 million upfront deposit for the Streams was advanced on closing and the entirety of this upfront deposit will be used by Sierra Sun to restart Arcata, which is fully financed to commercial production, and advance Azuca.
 - Sierra Sun's obligations under the Streams will be secured in favor of Triple Flag. Triple Flag will have a continuing security interest over the property, assets, and undertakings of Sierra Sun, including a mortgage over the mines.
 - Triple Flag and Sierra Sun will work together to identify social programs in the communities surrounding Arcata and Azuca to support with separate additional investment.
- Near-term cash flow with an established operator. The Streams are expected to have at least a 10-year mine life, with annual GEOs forecast to ramp up to approximately 5 to 6 thousand GEOs per year by 2028.
 - Arcata is the core value driver for the Streams and is fully permitted for restart. Sierra Sun intends to restart the Arcata underground operation in multiple phases to generate cash flow for an ongoing ramp-up to steady state. The operator expects Arcata to commence production in the second half of 2025. We have not included any GEOs from Arcata in our 2025 guidance.
 - Separately, we anticipate production from Azuca to start by the end of 2029.
- Significant exploration potential across a large land package in a proven mining district. The Streams cover the existing mining and exploration licenses for each of the Arcata and Azuca mines.
 - Arcata is a 34,827-hectare property, hosting an 8,751-hectare high-density vein district. Total concessions at Azuca are 13,492 hectares.
 - The Streams also provide for coverage of any other commercially economic minerals that may be discovered on the properties in the future on similar terms to silver and gold.

Asset Background

Arcata is a past operating underground silver and gold mine that was developed by Hochschild Mining plc ("Hochschild"), with first silver concentrate produced in 1964. Current infrastructure at Arcata includes a 2,500 tpd concentrate processing plant, a 12 MVA power line, backup generators, camps and road access. In February 2019, Arcata was placed on temporary care and maintenance due to a low silver price environment. The silver price averaged approximately $16 per ounce through 2018 and 2019. Separately, Azuca is a satellite underground deposit located 116 kilometers north of Arcata by road, with ore expected to be trucked to Arcata for processing.

Sierra Sun acquired the 100%-owned Arcata and Azuca properties from Hochschild in a transaction that closed concurrently with the acquisition of the Streams and will now commence work to restart Arcata.
